

The 1976-77 Cheerleading season was a hectic one. The cheerleaders put on a Breakfast of Champions for the Girls' Basketball team in the fall and another Victory Breakfast for the Boys' Basketball team during the winter. The girls donated time and materials toward making the team spirits high during the seasons by decorating lockers and buying the teams treats.

The cheerleaders had two fund raising projects during the year to pay for the breakfasts and to put money toward summer camp. They sold candy in the fall and popcorn in the spring. The girls also attended a cheerleading clinic at Northwood Institute in the fall to learn new cheers and chants.

The Varsity cheerleaders bought new uniforms with the help of the P.T.O. and the school board. They were deeply appreciated.
