

Eighteen Seniors and three chaperons left Ashley taking an Indian Trails bus on March 22, 1982. The chaperons included Ruth Seals and Pat and Tim Jackson. Don Habermehl was their busdriver.

On their way to New York City the group stopped at Niagara Falls and also visited the West Point Military Academy. After they checked in the Hotel Edison in New York, where they spent the next two nights, they took the subway to the Stock Exchange. At night the group went to see a Basketball game in Madison Square Gardens and visited the Empire State Building afterwards. On Wednesday morning they went on a sightseeing tour. After they stopped in Chiantown and at the United Nations they took a boat to the Statue of Liberty. The Seniors had dinner at Mama Leone's, a fine Italian restaurant. On Thursday they visited the Rockefeller Center and spent the rest of the day shopping in downtown New York. The Senior Class and their chaperons arrived back in Ashley on Friday, March 26.
