This year's jazz band had a very difficult time. This was the first year that jazz band was not offered as a class. That meant that they had to meet either before school or during homeroom time, which is only seventeen minutes long. Nevertheless, the jazz band still performed like pros for both the Christmas and Spring Concerts held at AHS.

In the picture for the yearbook the jazz band decided to "Go Hawaiian" with all of them wearing Hawaiian shirts.

This year a junior high jazz band was started. Their first performance was at the Spring Concert, where they did an excellent job.

Karin and Chaunda show their enthusiasm during warm-ups!
