

Student Council

(front row, l. to r.): Al Stehlik, Teresa Rousseau, Lori Saxton, Kristen Gavenda, Karen Stoneman, Julie Mills, (second row, l. to r.): Lynette Saylor, Jeremy Cartwright, Tom Fabus, Stephanie Melvin, Mr. Schestag, Tom Lamey, Chuanda Shaw, Erin Malek, Aaron Burk, Deann Gross.

The 1985-86 student council accomplished a lot. All four officers ran unopposed last year, which might indicate that the student body knew they could get the job done and do the school some good.

The student council started out the school year by putting on an excellent Homecoming Parade and Dance. They moved on to sponsor a food drive contest between the classes. The eighth graders topped all other classes in the amount of food they brought in. All of the food acquired was donated to charity.

The next project the student council undertook was having a Puttin' on the Hits competition at the school. The show was successful in a very big way. First place was taken by Rick and Lynette Saylor Charlie Howes, and Mike Morris for their version of The Cars' "Tonight She Comes."

The last project of this year's student council was to purchase a lighted events calendar to be placed in the front yard of the school. Part of the burden of the cost was taken up by the classes of 84, 85, and 86, who donated the surplus in their accounts to the cause.