Newcomer Penny Ward relaxes behind a book during her studyhall. Penny moved here in November. Besides being a member of the junior class, she is also an active member of the FHA.

Being chosen as a Homecoming representative is a great honor. Lisa Wingle and Bob Oswald are enjoying the easy life as they represent their class in the 1986 Homecoming parade.

Destination Hawaii

"Hawaii here we come!" is the motto on the lips of juniors looking forward to their senior year and, most of all, to their senior trip.

The juniors are working hard to make their dream — traveling to the Hawaiian Islands for a week in the sun — a reality.

This class is considered a "go getter" class. As a result of working hard, they are ahead of where most other junior classes have been in the past, financially. Profiting 1,000 dollars or more on a money-maker is common practice for the class of '88. The juniors look at selling campaigns differently than other classes and are always on the lookout for original items to sell; they haven't relied on the usual candy items that are the staple of most other classes. They have sold two different types of jewelry, in one campaign, gold jewelry and the other campaign, crystal. In the future a raffle will be held, also.

So next year when spring arrives, don't be surprised when these future seniors are lying leisurely on the luscious white sands of the Hawaiian beaches.
