

Juniors

Wealthy? No! Rich? Yes!

A Bahama cruise? No! A week in Florida? Probably not. A day at Cedar Point? A possibility. Even though the class of '89 has not had the best of luck with their sales projects, and may not be repeating other classes' trips to Florida or California, they are always able to stick together and have fun.

Wherever the juniors may be, they can always be found laughing and making the best of their situation. Even if they haven't been able to make much of a profit off their sales projects over the years, they still keep smiles on their faces and just try a little harder on their next project.

Although this class may only get as far as an afternoon at the park in Ashley, they will always be able to hold on to the special memories they've created together as special friends.
