First Year Player Focuses On Achieving Goals For The Season

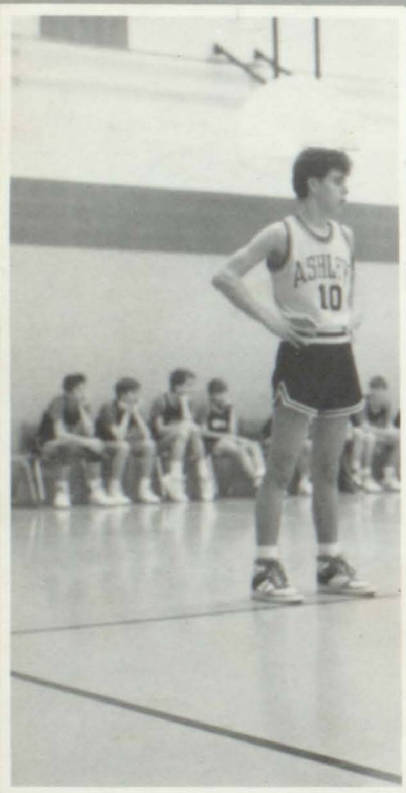

Standing tall, with fire in his eyes, is first year basketball player, Robert Potter.

Robert was surprised that he was given plenty of playing time, since he was such a rookie.

Coming into the season he set two main goals: making points and boxing out. He feels he has definitely improved in both areas.

Coach Randy Stehlik had this to say about him: "Robert has really come along and become aggressive and is really starting to contribute to the team on and off the court."

POTTER FEELS HE IMPROVED both his boxing out and his scoring.

"I WAS DISAPPOINTED at the turnout of guys, but it turned out well," states first time coach Randy Stehlik.
