

Champions Chow!

Dinner Talk Helps Keep The Winning Spirit!

"We have to be silly and be funny, because when we're out on the court we have to be serious," explained Jody Felton, discussing the girls' varsity basketball team's tradition of sharing dinner at one another's homes before games.

Connie Andersen, parent, stated that she enjoyed having the kids for dinner, probably as much as they liked being there. It wasn't too hard, since her daughter, Traci planned the easy-to-fix meal of tacos. She said it was a part of taking a turn she didn't mind taking.

Dinner ... talk? Is this all? Definitely not! These girls found many things to do before and after dinner, such as playing the organ, or in Dianna Garcia's case, perhaps "beating" is the correct word. Sometimes they watched videos or, like Sheila Keck, called the radio station and requested, "We are the Champions," since these girls really are.

▲SCREENING OUT THE OPPONENT is one of Angela Felton's strong points. She had a total of 144 rebounds in her final season at Ashley.

OFFENSIVE OR DEFENSIVE REBOUNDS, Sheila Keck will take either. She grabbed 40 offensive and 47 defensive rebounds for a season total of 87.

▲"They shouldn't even be on the same court as us," asserts Coach Wayer, bluntly wrapping up his half-time talk.

