

▲ WHAT'S A PARTY WITHOUT REFRESHMENTS? Brad Durchaun, Lynna Tupica, Annmarie Fabus and Jeff Wadell take a break from dancing to enjoy the cake and punch served by the eighth graders.

◀ BOTTOM'S UP! Traci Andersen, Andy Denman, Chaunda Shaw, Warren Faber, Billy Schmidt, Laura Ostrander, and Alan Good toast to the seniors and to friendship.

Soft Music, Everything Perfect . . .

“When I’m With You”

Imagine an open field filled with daisies. A small, clear stream runs through at one side. There's a small wooden bridge that crosses the stream. You're on one side dressed in a long Southern Belle dress, and your date, on the other side, is in a white tuxedo and a top hat with a pink carnation in his lapel. You both meet on the bridge to watch the sun set into the stream and the field of daisies. If you attended the Junior-Senior Prom, you had a chance to live out this scene.

The 1988-89 Senior Prom was held April 29, at 8:30 at the Ashley High School Gym. The juniors had a hard time this year setting up for prom because of this year's closed campus. They weren't allowed to do anything until Friday after school. However, when the guests walked in, it didn't show a bit. With the lights down low as you walked across the bridge, you knew you had just entered paradise or a dream. Gemini played slow dancing songs and it seemed the night would last forever.

The seniors dedicated a farewell song to Raneë Robinson. Then they and the senior sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Martinez, danced as they all reminisced and promised to keep in touch.