

ALWAYS A SMILE ON HER FACE, Mrs. Bongard is more than just a teacher to the students, she is a friend. She says she likes the students because "They're so unique."

Relationships with friends and teachers are really important.

Relationships are what holds AHS together, like glue. We like knowing that we will hear the latest gossip or know where everyone will be going on the weekend. It is satisfying . . . it is what we all look forward to in the mornings when we get to school. We like seeing all of the smiling faces that cheer us up when we are depressed, and the ones that always find time to listen when we have problems. That is what friendship is all about at Ashley, helping people out whenever they need it, because we care.

ROB HARRIS WASN'T SO WILLING to sponsor Kelli Felton for the annual basketball marathon, held December 9, 1989.

LUNCH TIME IS FOR MORE THAN JUST EATING. Jennifer Keck and Mr. Wayer enjoy some conversation before the bell rings.

