This Is What The 1989-90
Cheerleaders Aimed To Receive.

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PEP ASSEMBLY, according to the cheerleaders, was the funeral, where they buried the old spirit things to make room for the new items. (bottom) Holding candles, Brenda Saylor, Tina Leavitt, and Sharon Keck mourn quietly as Shelly Andersen and Anmarie Fabus put an old deflated basketball to rest in their funeral skit. (below) Amy Andersen, Kelli Felton and Janette Stehlik celebrate the new items by performing the dance routine to "Opposites Attract."

The 1989-90 cheerleaders were not only full of spirit and new ideas, but these girls had one goal in mind that motivated them to practice every day and even on weekends: they wanted to earn a little RE-SPECT. Committing themselves to achieving their goal, they began motivating the fans to participate in crowd-involvement cheers. They entertained the crowd with their dance routines to "Pump Up The Jam" and "Opposites Attract."

INTRODUCING THE NEW SPIRIT CORNER . . . Stephanie Melvin, Jody Felton and Kelli Feton hold up the enormous banner that the cheerleaders worked several days on for the purpose of bringing something new to Ashley High School. Cheerleader, Jody Felton, commented, "A tribute to the old spirit, and an introduction to something new."
