

Finally, the art class did a variety of different projects, whether it was the painting class making works of art with water colors or just plain finger paints. The handicrafts class also did new and different projects such as leather bracelets or tie dyed shirts. Like most art classes, ceramics class also had many new projects. For instance, the class made mugs, boxes, wind chimes, and dolls if the students wanted to.

These new introductions to class made getting an education fun and exciting.

THREADING THE NEEDLE, Ellis Mason readies his sewing machine so he can begin sewing on his home economics projects. One of the junior high sewing projects was cloth boxes.

REACHING FOR PHYSICAL FITNESS, Sarah Felton prepares to do the sit and reach, with Mr. Andersen measuring while Shannon Felton, Cassi Dennis, Heather VanZee, and Stephanie Theil shout words of encouragement.

CREATING A MASTERPIECE, Mrs. Gearheart shows Dianna Garcia how to create a great painting with water color paints.