

IN YOUR FACE, BRUCE! Shelly Felton watches as Matt Chovjka gets back at Mr. Anderson for all those painful football drills. At this year's snake dance, the football players weren't the only ones on the receiving end of whipped cream pies.

Ashley may be a small school but we believe in doing things big. Whether it's a big limo or a big appetite, it's just part of the Ashley style. Events are important at any school, but at a small school like Ashley where you can't do many different things, you have to take advantage of things you can do. So at prom, homecoming, twirp week, and all the other events, we have learned to think big and do it with style.

WEARING HIS WAR PAINT, Rob Harris is ready to play the homecoming game now, even though he still has to go through the parade.

DIVE RIGHT IN, THAT'S Don Wallen's motto as he really gets into the pie eating contest during twirp week. However, Jim Drummond has to come up for air. Other events of twirp week included a relay race and dress up days.
