

TWO POINTS ARE ADDED to Ashley's side as Mr. Carl Wayer, principal and varsity girls' basketball coach, makes a basket during the high school lunch hour. Students often play basketball during lunch and when Mr. Wayer has time he joins in the fun, also.

KICK UP YOUR HEELS and get busy. People at Ashley, young and old, always seem to be involved in so many things. The old styles of shoes to the modern ones represent some of the changes we've experienced here at Ashley.

A Few Changes

Is There A Difference?

Are we really that different from our parents? Have the times changed that much? We all have our ideas about what's "in" and what's "out". Styles, trends, and beliefs have changed a lot from the black, thick glasses of yesterday to the ripped jeans and florescent shirts of today; from the crew cut and beehive hairstyles our parents sported, to the guys' long hair and girls' tall, puffy bangs we see now. The focus of the 1990-91 yearbook is on how different things are now compared to how they were when our parents went to school. We, the journalism staff, hope to bring back some memories and also remind you how things have changed and progressed throughout the years here at Ashley. You may also notice that many things haven't changed and there's a pleasant similarity, even after all those years.
