

What Is Your Craziest High School Memory?

"I cut a girl's eyelashes off at a slumber party."

Mrs. Marilyn Gearhart
Art

"I remember this kid who in Chemistry would go down through a trap door in the floor and come back at the end of the hour."

Mr. Paul Hornak
Business Education

"I took my father's car down a trail and brought it back with no bumpers or license plates."

Mr. Steve Larsen
Science

"I fractured a girl's nose with my elbow in gym class once."

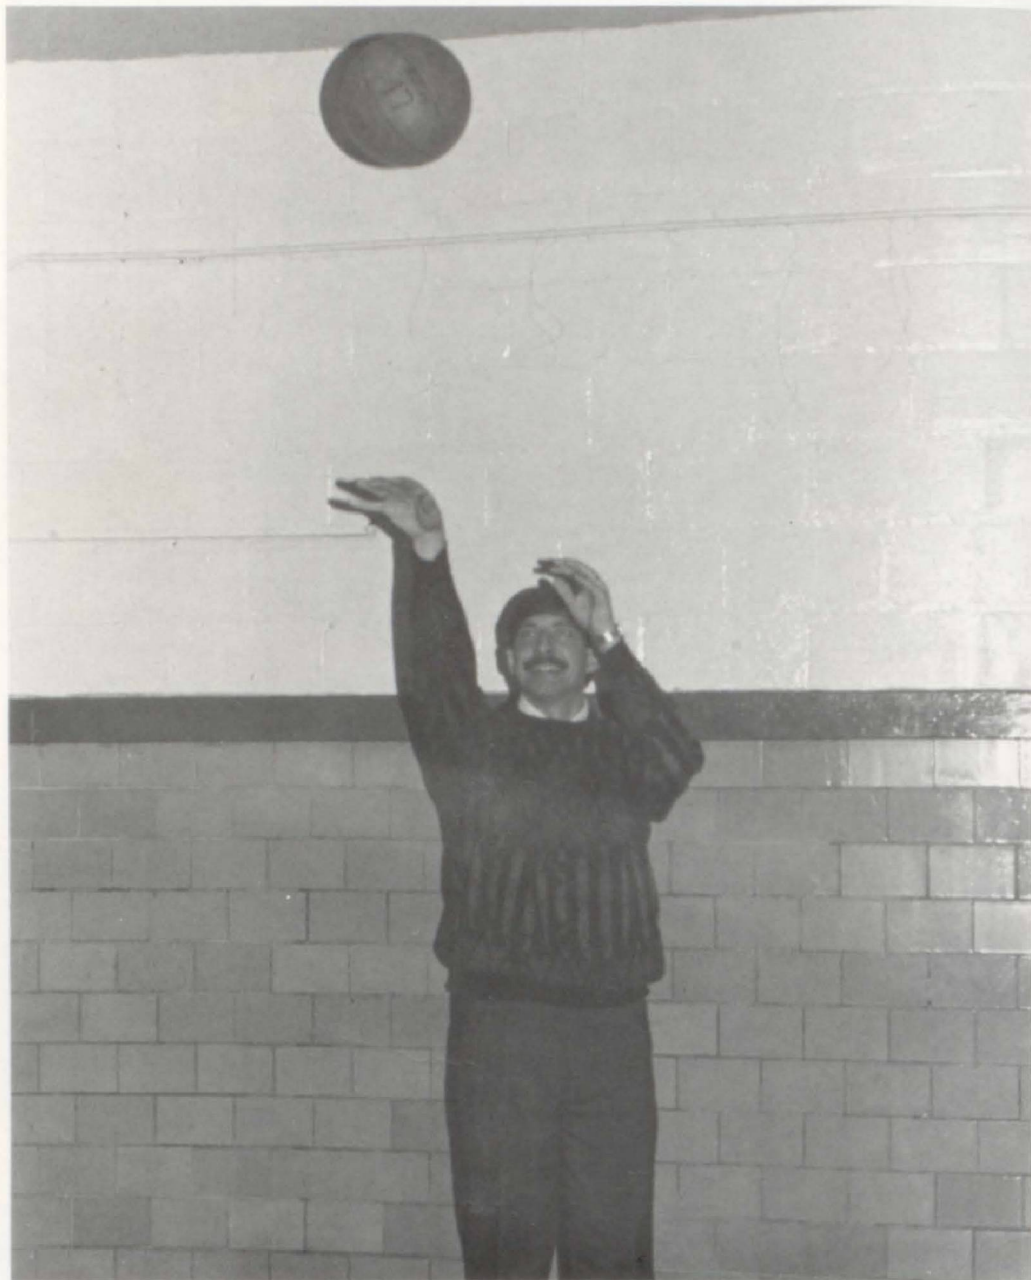

Mrs. Karen Martinez
History

"I skipped school once. I spent the hour in the bathroom with a couple of friends. We never got caught."

Mrs. Ruth Seals
English

"I wrecked my new car. My friend told me that I was a better driver than he was. My friend rolled his car and totalled it."

Mr. Larry Walden
History, Physical Education

SHOOTING THE JUMPER . . . Mr. Paul Hornak gets out basketballs for the students every day at lunchtime. He says, "I like it when everyone gets along, and we're one big happy family."

BUMP, SET, SPIKE! Don't think gym class is just playing games. Mr. Larry Walden occasionally gives a quiz on volleyball or other sports. His quizzes are usually on the rules of a sport, which he feels are most important.

"I threw the colorguard rifles around."

Mrs. Diana Wilhelm
Band, Music

"I went into the bathroom with a friend. She made me laugh so hard I fell in."

Mrs. Connie Bongard
Home Economics

"I shoveled cow manure and then came right to school. They sent me home, because I smelled so bad."

Mr. Bruce Andersen
Physical Education, Science
