As One Of The Biggest Classes At Ashley High, Their Spirit Is

Keeping the pep in, out, and around our school

Fresh from the security of elementary, all of a sudden they found themselves in the real world, the real big guys walking in the same halls as they. This class, previously known as the first graders, the second graders, etc., are now known as . . . The Class of 1996!!!

Jeremy Saylor stated, "I was most worried about making it to my classes and getting eighth hours, but I do like gym class because Mr. Akin is helping Mr. Andersen teach us how to wrestle." Joie Fabus added, "Our class is very physically inclined." At that, they are. Watching them in gym class is like viewing professional sports players in the games they love. Baskets going in, volleyballs flying over, tennis and kick balls sailing through the air.

This class is one spunky group, with loud voices at pep assemblies, who are going to put more and more life into this school as they get older.

WALL CLIMBING? As Jason Sutton and Elliott Lowe look on, Eric Wicke pulls himself up during their first hour gym class. Eric's favorite activity during gym happens to be the peg board.
