

Up Fun In Sun and Frankenstein

AHOY, MATEY! Those are the words that Joey Smolka, and Tony Gaston are saying at Walt DisneyWorld, after they just rode the Pirate Ride and dressed up in their hooks and hats. "The combat scene where the pirates attack a city looked real and it was exciting," commented Joe. The seniors visited DisneyWorld the second day of their trip.

and a chance to camouflage the bus. After getting back from the zoo, the seniors had a pool party. Later that night they went to Medieval Times for a feast and entertainment of jousting and sword combat. After walking International Drive for the last time Thursday morning, the seniors loaded the bus for Universal Studios. That night they loaded the bus for home. After five days of perfect, sunny weather, they rode home through the rain and were greeted with snow covered ground and freezing temperatures in Ashley. Although the warm, sunny weather was behind them, the memories were forever.

Time To Party! It was the perfect opportunity after the seniors locked Mrs. Martha Miller, chaperone, in the stockade at Walt DisneyWorld.

Scott Brzak, David Keller, Wes Denniston, Luella Paksi, Kurt Densmore, Jeremy Cartwright, Shawn Easterbrook, Tony Gaston, Justin Welch, Martha Miller, Ann Miller, Richard Kremer, Scott Polash, Melanie Zimmerman, Eric Kremer, Joe Smolka, Rob Harris, Jennie Thompson, Dave Murdock, Sherm Hendricks, Lynette Saylor, Richard Miller, Cindy Houghten, Shelly Muscott, and Terry Good.