

NOT FRESH ENOUGH? Jason Kostal preps Jonathon Pendleton by squirting breath freshener in his mouth just before his interview at the RESD.

Resumé, Please!

It was a day to learn how successful they'd be some day in the not so distant future. It was the day Ms. Gebber's vocational English class experienced their mock interviews at the Regional Educational Services District.

The interviews were conducted just like authentic, real-life job interviews. If the student was interested in a bank position, then he or she was interviewed for exactly that position.

Most of the class members felt they had been fairly successful with their interviews. "The experience was excellent," commented J.C. Stoll.

Interviews

R. Woody

"NOW, ABOUT TOMORROW ... " Ms. Gebber assumes her famous "Indian" position, as she gives the class some last minute instruction for their interviews.