

J. Thompson

R. Woody

"A ... B ... C ... D..." Filing papers is one of the jobs Shasta Patterson does as an office practice student third hour during second semester.

THE PERFECT CADET. Ronda Cook's job of cadeting for Mr. Paul Hornak is definitely not a blow-off job, entailing typing and computer work.

WHAT LIFESAVERS! BOY, DO WE NEED THEM

Cadet Teaching Foreground: Jennifer Maier, Front row: Dawn Strouse, JoAnna Thompson, Nicole Peters, Shannan Felton, Jenny Felton, Jim Fabus Second row: Heidi Van-Zee, Ronda Cook, J.C. Stoll, Brenda Saylor, Robin Woody, Jason Pendleton, Shelly Hardman, Brandon Malek Third row: Robert Mason, Brian Malek, Ellery Sosebee, Shelly Andersen, Joe Beracy.

Office Practice: Angie Brzak, Angie Camp, Dawn Strouse, Phyllis Shaw, Ronda Cook, Andrea Becker, Robin Woody, Tim Bush, Jason Saylor.

Why did God invent cadet teachers? To make teachers' lives easier! Cadets are called upon to do just about anything that will help out. Running off and correcting papers, making bulletin boards, helping teach, and running up town for groceries, are some of the things they may do.

As athletic director, Mr. Paul Hornak finds his cadet especially important. "She is very important to me because of the knowledge she has about how I want things done. I do not have enough time to do all this myself," remarked Mr. Hornak.

According to Mrs. Phyllis Shaw, school secretary, office students also fill an important role. Some of their jobs include filing, sorting mail, running errands, running copies on the copy machine and occasionally answering the phone.

Angie Brzak, office practice student, said, "There is a lot of responsibility. I am usually busy from the start of the hour until the bell rings."

Shannan Felton