

ACTIVITIES BRING A CHANGE OF PACE

ONCE A YEAR, FOR HOMECOMING WEEK BEING SILLY IS PART OF STUDENT LIFE

ACTIVITIES BRING A CHANGE OF PACE

I

Imagine bell bottoms, kids with painted faces, guys dressed like girls dancing and singing . . . No, we're not talking about Woodstock—this is Homecoming week at Ashley High School.

A big part of Homecoming is dress-up days. On Blue and Gold Day, cheerleaders went from class to class, painting faces blue and gold. Mike Dolloff reflected, "Blue and Gold Day is my favorite. It shows a lot of spirit when everyone wears our school colors."

A new day this year, Cartoon Day, was also popular. Heidi VanZee commented, "Cartoon Day is great. It brings out the character in everyone!"

The annual slave auction made Homecoming Week especially interesting. Joe Beracy, Jaime Morris's slave, was forced to stand on a chair in the cafeteria and sing to everyone. Other slaves wore makeup and dressed like girls.

Tony Miller summed the week up as, "Fun and exciting!"

by Sara Jean McGillis

RELIEVING STRESS? Joe Jungitsch and Joe Beracy joke about the game to calm nerves. As football players, Joe and Joe were among the first to have their faces painted blue and gold.

BEING GOOFY! Warren Faircloth's master, Denise Garcia, forces Warren to wear a red and white polka dot bikini and a Goofy Hat. Like the rest of the football team "slaves," Warren was a good sport.

J. Thompson

GROOVY, BABY! Jaime Morris and Dominic Lowe get into the mood of 50's Day with a "dip." "Dressing in a poodle skirt and glittery glasses makes me want to twist and shout," asserted Jaime!

J. Pendleton

ASHLEY BEAR FANS pose after being "Blue and Golded." First row: Mike Worden, Jenny Powelson, Jamey Bearden Second row: Brianna Yelsik, Sara Fel-

ton, Jaime Morris Third row: Mrs. Suzanne Luneack, Chris Porter, Kim Contreras, Jamie Contreras, Tanya Schmidt, Jo Anna Thompson.