I

feel the pie-eating contest is one of the biggest events during Twirp Week," enthused Stephanie Murdock. Of all the activities during Twirp Week, the pie-eating contest is ranked as one of the most exciting by most of the students.

Mrs. Suzanne Luneack has co-judged the pie-eating contest for the past four years. "It almost makes me sick when I see the kids dive into those cream pies; I can just feel my stomach turn," she commented.

Senior Heather VanZee has been a frequent contestant during the pie-eating contest. Her thought while mowing down is usually, "This stuff is sick, but I want to win."

Other popular events during Twirp Week included the famous dress-up days: Blue and Gold, Class Color, Pajama, College, and Valentine's Day.

Another event held during Twirp Week was the election for Snowball King and Queen. The winners, Joie Fabus and Kristen Fabus, were announced at that Friday's basketball game. The snowball Dance took place after the game.

"Twirp Week was very time-consuming and stressful, but once things got rolling and fell into place, things went really well." reflected Student Council President Jenny Powelson.

GET IT OFF MY TONGUE . . .
! Bill Mitchell, Chad Huntoon, and Jamey Bear-den all join in the pie eating contest. Chad said, "It was a lot of fun, but it tasted gross."

I CAN DO THIS! Warren Fair-cloth struggles to make it to the finish line in the balloon race. Warren's efforts contributed to the seniors taking first place, over-all, in the relays.

SLEEPWALKING AGAIN . . .
Christy Harris wanders around wondering where she left her "day clothes." Pajama Day wasn't the only day Christy dressed up. She participated in all of the dress up days.
