And It Shows

A new stage skirt, new props, more people, and donations. This is all a new experience for AHS drama club members.

This year, the drama club really made an all-out effort to provide their audiences with enjoyable productions. They featured a winter comedy entitled, "The Day Christmas Disappeared From Evergreen Town", and a spring play, "Look Who's Laughing." The cast put over three months practicing these plays. "I thought that the drama club did a great job this year; you could see all their hours of practicing paid off," stated Brianna Yelsik.

Donations poured in this year, helping the drama club purchase necessities for the play that they have been lacking in past years. "Without the people's generosity and donations, we wouldn't have been able to have plays with unique stage settings," said Mrs. Marilyn Gearhart.

DIG THOSE TUNES!! Jaime Morris (Joanie) tries to convince Jamie Contreraz (Grandma) that her music is cool. Having two Jamies was quite confusing during practices.
