t was the best prom in years!" exclaimed Shannan Felton. "Most of the seniors were there and the setting was elegant." Most promgoers would agree with Shannan.

Prom 1994 was held in the Van Dusen Room at Alma College on May 14. The theme was "Til the End of the Road," from The Wizard of Oz.

The Van Dusen Room was decorated in emerald green and black, from the tall, green pillars suggesting the Emerald City and stretching across one corner of the room, to the black-skirted, round tables decorated with shiny black and green helium balloons taped on shimmery mirrors in the middle of each table. There was even a separate room, decorated in the prom theme colors, where couples could wait leisurely for their pictures to be taken.

Even though dinner wasn't served, refreshments, were offered, including cake, fruit, vegetables and dip, and cheese and crackers. Punch was available dipped from an ice-sculpted punch bowl.

Chaperone Mary Gavenda commented, "The jeans, shirt, and tennis-shoe group was transformed into a real class act. The ladies were gorgeous and the gentlemen never handsomer. Their conduct for the evening certainly matched their attire."

This was definitely a prom to be remembered and the perfect last dance for the seniors until they all meet again at "The End of the Road."

DO YOUR FEET HURT YET? Jenny Maier and Shasta Patterson take a break from dancing. They were with a group of friends who all came together and had a great time.

WHERE'D IT GO? Denise McElhaney rummages through her camera bag in search of fresh batteries. Flashbulbs popped all night.
