

ARE YOU SURE THAT'S RIGHT? Dave Fowler, Larry Litwiller, and Ellery Sosbee build model airplanes for a transportation module. This module involves various modes of transportation and transportation systems. In this section, alternative sources of power and design for a variety of vehicles was studied through research and development.

ARCHITECT AT WORK! Mike Worden works diligently on drawing a model house. Mike was part of the Communications in Applied Tech class. Mike commented, "The house turned out the way I wanted it to."
