

WORKING HARD TO MAKE IT FUN SCHOOL FUN?

Something Old, Something New

NIGHT IN SHINING LAVENDER

"I was afraid that it would be too much work and that workers wouldn't show up. I was glad when they all came through," said Mrs. Sherry Reichard, rookie FHA advisor, as she reflected on this year's traditional junior high prom.

Decorations fell into place under the expert hands of Mrs. Laurel Andersen and the FHA prom committee. The Camelot theme was developed in pink and lavender, a result of many hours of labor.

The only break with tradition at the prom came with a momentary lapse of dignity when a cake-fight erupted, which was quickly quelled.

"We want to give the junior high students something to look forward to," said Mrs. Reichard.

Bob Franks

Even though this was a slow year for the FHA, they were still able to accomplish everything they set out to do. Leadership was passed down, with the resignation of Mrs. Connie Bongard, to Mrs. Sherry Reichard. The group was smaller this year, but they had a lot of spirit. They again sponsored a needy family for Christmas and held the customary Junior High Prom.

Though small in numbers, the FHA members had big hearts and many successful accomplishments.

Sara Jean McGillis

B. Franks

J. Ortman