

A MASTER AT WORK Freshman Jodi Watson carefully paints a bird in art class. Mrs. Gearhart offers a wide variety of art classes that range from making pottery to weaving mats.

T. Polash

You're Kidding...

Throw away the books?

So many times, students find themselves overcome with bookwork. Many students choose classes without much to get by. Some teachers feel that Art and P.E. are good classes because they don't require any books, just good lessons.

Sometimes students need an hour to loosen up and enjoy themselves. Mr. Bruce Andersen, P.E. teacher, said, "Having gym gives students a chance to blow off steam in a different type atmosphere."

It is always good to have hands-on type work too. Ms. Michelle Moore stated, "You don't have to sit still and sit in a chair. I like to be active and out there with the students."

On the other hand, Art offers a more low-calorie burning class. Students enjoy creating things. Whether it be Art or P.E., you can always count on good fun and learning, and best of all...no books!

Joe Beracy

T. Polash

T. Polash

MR. BRUCE ANDERSON
PHYSICAL EDUCATION

STEADY HANDS! Junior Mindy Schwab perfects one of her masterpieces in drawing class. Mrs. Gearhart starts students in drawing class with circles and straight lines to perfect the stroke of a pencil.

