Fun At Camp

Breaks, games and hard work!

Spinning around the ballbat, saying "Fuzzy bunny," a swimming party, and playing the toilet game. What do all these have in common? They're all activities played at band camp.

"Students work hard because they have to learn the whole show in one week," said director Mrs. Jean Murdock.

During breaks the band members play games and have competition between sectionals. These consist of spinning around a bat then trying to run straight, seeing how many marshmallows one person can get in his or her mouth while trying to say "Fuzzy bunny," and demonstrating toilet habits when they think they are doing something else. The band also got to march to Jaime Morris's house for a swimming party.

"I look forward to seeing my friends and playing the games," remarked xylophone player Kerri McCrimmon.

WOMEN HUNTERS IN BAND?
 "Slave Day was fun, but it was awful wearing the hunting clothes," exclaims Jaime Morris. Jenny McGillis and Jaime had to wear hunting gear all day. This was the first year the volleyball players were sold during Twirp Week.
