

Young Teams Gain Experience

Ups, downs, unexpected breaks

The goals of the seventh grade basketball teams were what most teams and individuals want... to have a great season and WIN!

A good team always has its weaknesses and strengths. "One of our strengths is when we came back nine points and took first in the Ovid-Elsie tournament," said Miranda Coon.

Weaknesses are always a minus. "Our weaknesses were when Kristin Bornemann broke her arm and our coach, John Haruska, got thrown out of two games," commented Kim Bush.

And no one will ever forget the three pointer Geno Burgett launched, from three feet beyond the three point line, and made at the last second. "I thought, I'm gonna miss this, but I had the ball so I threw it up!" exclaimed Geno.

Being a young team has both its advantages and disadvantages but one thing is for sure! Teams that play together can tackle any obstacle that stands in their path.

By Shawna Bornemann

S. Bornemann

S. Bornemann

GET THE REBOUND Valerie Miller races an Ovid-Elsie opponent to get one of her 25 season rebounds. The girls went on to take first in both the Ashley and Ovid-Elsie tournaments.

STRETCH Kevin Fabus reaches for a high pass. Kevin showed some aggressive playing with 28 steals this year. "My goal was to get the most fouls," said Kevin.

T. Polash