

Excitement

AHS motto: Always make it exciting

Living. It may sound like a simple task, but it actually requires a lot of hard work, dedication, and personality. Everyone we know is alive but not everyone has lived. Many people just go to school, do what they must to slide by, and return to their shell without leaving to live life for one second. But, on the other hand, the average AHS student lives on the edge, spending every second of their life supporting themselves, each other, and this community. There are many things we do around here to show we are alive, like go to games, go to dances, and just hang out together. "Hangin' out is fun because I get to see lots of people," stated Melissa Bornemann.

RAH, RAH, RAH ... That's not an ordinary cheerleader, it's junior Kevin Gavenda. Kevin shows off his spirit by cheering for the girls at a pep assembly before regional tournaments. "In the past few years we've lost some spirit, and I like to help bring it back!" stated Kevin.

GROOVIN'! Juniors Stacie Fabus and Kristie Spencer get down with seniors Jason Saylor and Joie Fabus. Joie commented, "This homecoming was the best one in a long time. The class competitions and being King made it fun."
