Prom, the night of your life, memories to last a lifetime.

After the first part of your day has been hustle, hustle, hustle, getting yourself ready for your dinner reservations, prom night has begun. Fancy restaurant, gorgeous dress or tux, outrageous-looking car you borrowed from that rich uncle, and that special date; you know this will be your perfect night full of memories.

As you enter the room filled with decorations and music, your heart races. You look into your date's eyes and that special song begins; you grab his/her hand and sweep out onto the dance floor. The night is filled with dancing, taking pictures and having the time of your life...you wish it would never end.

As the night comes to an end and your date is taking you home, you look back and realize this has been the best night of your life.
