

On The Edge Of Greatness

"It's going to be harder, bigger guys, more games, and we will have to be in better shape," commented eighth grader Jason McCrimmon.

The eighth grade team is about to make a big step in their basketball careers, moving up to JV. They have made the transition easy by posting a .500 record and outstanding individual play.

The seventh grade was on the edge in a different way. This year was their first year playing junior high school basketball.

"We got to ride the buses, stop and eat, and have two games a week," James Polash commented.

Being sure not to get overlooked, the team posted an impressive 8-4 record, along with great individual play from Patrick Yelsik and Jesse Diffin. Patrick averaged 13.9 ppg while Jesse cleaned up the glass with a 10.6 rpg average.

Jesse said, "I'll have to push myself more to be the best. I'll have to eat my Wheaties."

To be the best, these athletes have pushed themselves to the edge.

Travis Polash

Seventh Grade Boys Basketball
Front row: Patrick Yelsik, Louis Follett, Jacob Harris, Travis Copsey
Back row: Matt Brzak, Jesse Diffin, Aaron Schulz, Aaron Grollimund.

BASKETBALL SCOREBOARD

US	WHO	THEM
SEVENTH GRADE
38	M.P.S.H.	28
43	MT. BAPTIST	21
27	OVID-ELSIE	29
28	VESTABURG	21
38	MT. BAPTIST	17
31	FULTON	39
31	OVID-ELSIE	25
44	M.P.S.H.	18
25	VESTABURG	23
22	FULTON	27
36	MORRICE	26
36	M.P.S.H.	59
EIGHTH GRADE
30	M.P.S.H.	35
31	MT. BAPTIST	26
21	OVID-ELSIE	24
46	VESTABURG	20
27	MT. BAPTIST	24
28	FULTON	24
17	OVID-ELSIE	18
19	M.P.S.H.	24
39	VESTABURG	26
30	FULTON	34
31	MORRICE	39
39	VESTABURG	21

J. Downs

PICK IT UP AND LET'S GO ... Steve Lowell grabs a loose ball and looks to push it up. Steve helped out with 8 steals.

M. Bornemann