

Thinking

Have you ever wondered what was going through the minds of the varsity volleyball team after they made a big mistake... after they won districts... or after they lost regionals...?

Kristen Fabus shared some thoughts that went through her mind after they beat a really good team. "I feel good because I know we proved the other team wrong, in that they usually don't take us seriously as a volleyball team."

Do you ever wonder what the coach is thinking? What was she thinking during districts? "I was a little worried in the first game against Fowler when they had the lead. Once we found our groove, I was confident we'd win because I knew Fowler would lose their composure if we stuck with them long enough. It was an awesome win. I was pleased with how we played," stated Coach, Michelle Moore.

Imagine how you would feel if a ball was spiked your way and with such force that you had to dive to the ground to return it. Lisa Maier remarked, "I feel scared and dive out of the way."

Does making a really big mistake affect the rest of the game for the players? Kristen Fabus commented on this.

"Sometimes when I am not in the right state of mind I let my mistakes affect my game for a few points."
