Who would have thought that the freshman class would be considered 'the class of the century'? The class of 2000 is anything but normal; they're what you would call "out-of-this-world." Starting off as freshmen to set a new style and a new century, the class of 2000 has set the pace for many to follow. "We have to act as though we're the best class, because we have to start off the new century, and who better to do it than us?" commented Josh Saylor.

Being an athletic class with a lot of spunk, the freshmen have always met expectations placed on them. "The majority of us care about what happens in our futures, so we are starting off on a good track, but still having fun along the way," stated Miranda Coon.

The freshmen of 2000, or as they would like to be called, 'the class of the century', has a lot to do to meet expectations placed on them before the big day comes, and they've started off on the right foot. With all the fun the freshmen have, and the reputation they've set, who wouldn't want to be a part of their class? Three more years of 'the class of the century'... watch out!
