

B.Schulz

SCIENCE TODAY! Junior Patrick McGillis records data from a scientific experiment. "Doing the experiments was a favorite part of the year," said Patrick's sister, Jennifer McGillis.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT! Sophomore Eric Fabus is caught doing his math homework for his second hour Algebra I class with teacher Mr. Carl Wayer. Eric said, "Doing homework is good. It makes you smart."

K.Mephram

K.Mephram

ONE PLUS ONE EQUALS TWO The seventh and eighth grade math classes participated in the St. Jude's mathathon. "The mathathon students who collected money had a pizza party," commented math teacher, Mrs. Marcie Fabus.

FROGGY WENT A COURTIN'... This frog isn't going to be going anywhere. Junior Daniel Grollimund has a real good time dissecting a gigantic frog in his Explorations in Science class. Dan said, "I looked forward to lunch everyday after we got done dissecting."

B.Schulz

THE WEIGHT OF THIS CHEMICAL IS...? Ask Keri McCrimmon and Mike Wolfe. Weighing chemicals was just one of the many things the chemistry class did this year.