aving a blast

Even though the SADD and Spanish clubs didn't do very much, the people in these groups still had fun.

One of the most fun things the SADD club did was go to the SADD lock-in at CMU. Many of the members enjoyed this because there was something for everybody to do. Mark Miller commented, "I thought it was fun because I got to hang out with my friends and play basketball, since we never lost a game."

Another activity of SADD's was to put on the assembly before prom to influence students not to drink and drive. Beth Schulz commented, "I think that it needs to be brought to the students' attention not to drink and drive and show them what can happen if they do to make sure that they and their friends don't do it."

People may not even know that there is a Spanish Club here but there is, and the people in it have a good time. They weren't very active this year but it's mostly the people who take Spanish class who join the club. Spanish club president Cody Osborn stated, "We didn't do a whole lot this year."
