

I nvalued

Organizations: drama club, SADD, NHS, student council... what influences students to get involved? "I like to be involved because it points me in the direction to head in; to know where I want to go in the future," commented Brandie Burgett, student council president. Other students agree. Kim Bush recalled, "I like being on student council because I have a voice on what happens with the student body."

People also enjoy organizations for other reasons. "I thought that drama club was cool because I got to be someone that wasn't like me at all in the play," stated Roy Burgett. Val Miller recalled, "I like to be in SADD because of the lock-in. I got to meet a ton of new people from other schools close to us!"

Organizations give us something to do, an idea of the direction to go, and the opportunity to meet new people. "The organizations that I am in have helped me to become a better person, and to work well with others, especially from being in student council," reflected Brandie. "I hope people will realize that they are out there, and join to better themselves and their school."

Brandon Krueger

A.Strouse

PAY ATTENTION, PLEASE! Melissa Bornemann, Stacie Fabus, Brandie Burgett, and Kristen Fabus get sidetracked in conversation during the SADD ribbon ceremony while Beth Schulz reads the national drunk driving facts.