

STEELE CLEANER

LIGHTS, CAMERA,
ACTION,
THE SPOTLIGHT IS ON YOU

"Give me a sugar." These lines stated by Gram Hawley, played by Kristin Bornemann, makes the crowd erupt with laughter, and you know this year's play is another success.

This play's title was Hollywood Hillbillies, and the scene was set in Happy Hollow, a rundown town off the beaten track.

Beth Schulz and Amy Dawson play rich relatives that come to visit. Beth commented, "I liked playing a snob. I got to scream a lot and in the last scene I got to faint."

Of course, in every fun play there are the good guys and the bad guys. Some of the good guys are Gram Hawley, Cindy Lou

Hawley, played by Tracie Turner, and Sheriff Tom, the mixed up lawman who means well, played by Dan Grollimund. Thieves Jim Foxhall and Lucy Valentine, played by Aaron Schulz and Miranda Coon, fit the bad guy bill perfectly. They

"The best part of the play was when I got to scream and faint," commented Beth Schulz.

find out that Happy Hollow sits on natural gas and that Gram Hawley will retain all mineral rights. The two try to weasel the land away from Gram to get rich. Fortunately, they don't succeed and all wrongs are made right.

"As usual, the cast gave me a few gray hairs, but with all said and done, I think they did a real good job," stated play director Mrs. Marilyn Gearheart.

Denise Garcia

Top Photo: CAN I HELP YOU? Kevin Fabus and Michelle Duranso meet at the general store for some supplies. This was Michelle's first year in drama.

T. Turner

TAKE A BOW Amy Dawson, Denise Garcia, Tracie Turner Dan Grollimund, Miranda Coon, Misty Henderson take a bow for their fine performance on the stage.

L. Strnad

WHAT IS IT? Michelle Duranso and Tracie Turner act out a scene in Act 1, scene 3.