What is the seventh grade known for this year? Is it for their alarmingly good looks? No, it's for their positive attitudes toward our school. "I love this school, it's like a second home to me," commented Amanda Deming. Sherry Burford compared her old school to this one. "There is no comparison; this school is 100% better than my last school." So when you see a seventh grader walking down the hall, ask him or her what they think about our school and they'll always say, "I love Ashley!" — Katrina Payne
