

I GOT IT! Lisa Czeiszperger and Linda Gall watch as Amanda

Pearson bumps the ball. This was Amanda's first year.

A. Peters

INTRODUCING THE

Sport OF

volleyball

FOR THE YOUNGER SET WHO HAS

THEIR SHARE OF

HEARTS AND GUTS

and know that
teamwork & DEDICATION

Pay off

8TH GRADE V-Ball

HOME		VISITORS
11/15/16	Fulton	15/5/14
15/10/15	MPBA	10/15/06
15/1/15	Laingsburg	9/15/05
4/15/15	Beal City	15/1/10
15/15/15	Bath	4/7/07
15/8/15	Laingsburg	1/15/12
15/15/15	Chesaning	10/2/09

7th GRADE

7/15/15	Fulton	15/5/5
15/5/15	Laingsburg	8/15/06
7/15/05	Beal City	15/12/15
5/10/06	Bath	15/15/15
14/9/13	Laingsburg	16/15/15
3/14/06	Chesaning	15/16/15

"Winning isn't everything, it's experience that matters. We didn't win very many games, but we've learned a lot this year. We've learned what healthy competition is and we learned a lot about teamwork," stated Misty Henderson.

The JV team won three matches, lost fourteen, and tied once. The eighth grade team did fantastic; they won all of their eight games. But the seventh grade team couldn't quite pull it out of their hats; they won three games, but lost four. The leading scorers on each were: Stacey Deming, JV; Megan Diffen, eighth grade; and Katie Beck, seventh grade.

"We did learn a lot, but we would have done better if more people had shown up for practices and games. At our last game there were only seven of us because two people quit the team," proclaimed Amanda Pearson.

A. Peters

OH, THAT HURTS!
Stacey Deming dives for the ball, but falls just a little bit too short.

Coach Sherry Reichard was pleased with her team. "These girls grew not only as individuals, but as a team. I am proud of them!" she exclaimed. Mrs. Reichard's statement goes to show that the players worked hard together and grew both individually and as a team.

Katrina Payne

