

CHAMPS

WORK AS ONE

GOT IT Jessica Reist and Amanda Lange both go to bump the volleyball.

WATCH OUT Alissa Czeiszperger prepares to bump the volleyball as Luann Cermak steps back.

"They didn't always work as a team." This statement, from JV Coach Sherry Reichard, seems to sum up the one disappointment from both the junior high and JV teams.

Some of the high points for JV were winning all of their league matches, being able to do anything as a team when they chose to work together, and managing to get along.

For the junior high team, one of the best things was how competitive the team, consisting of mostly sixth and seventh graders, was while playing against older teams of seventh and eighth graders. Also, as Coach Deb Schestag said, "There were a lot of newcomers with athletic ability and positive attitudes." There were, however, some disappointments: "They needed to work more as a team and communicate more with each other," remarked Schestag.

While every team has its high and low points, both the junior high and

JV's high points outweighed the low points. If either team would have worked together more, the disappointment would have been far less.

Kari Deming

JUNIOR HIGH VOLLEYBALL

Ashley		Opponent
7th Grade
6	Ithaca	15
6		15
4		15
Fulton
15		12
7		15
14		16
Beal City
13		15
15		17
Laingsburg
6		15
15		6
15		10
Bath
11		15
15		12
11		15

K. Mephart

Geskus Photography

JR HIGH VOLLEYBALL

Front row: Angie Turner
 Second row: Jessica Reist, Amanda Lange, Annette Cermak, Denise Cermak, Katie Beck, Stephanie Beck
 Third row: Nicole Reist, Brenda McElroy, Cara Cummings, Megan Diffin, Samantha

Phillips, Angie Strouse
 Fourth row: Kaylee Beck, Nicole Limbert, Sara Turner, Rachel Lund, Shana Schribner
 Back row: Ashleigh Kaufmann.