"COME'ERE SON!" Ron Saylor rubs a pie in the face of his youngest, Josh Saylor, at a basketball pep assembly. "Brian Gavenda had the brainstorm to have Bear fans pay five dollars a pie and cream whoever you wanted on the basketball team or cheerleading squad," commented cheerleading coach, Ms. Landis. "I wasn't expecting THAT!" Exclaimed Josh. "I had no idea he was going to be there."

"JUST WAIT 'TILL WE GET HOME!" Josh smirks, while wiping the cream from his face.
