

STUDENT COUNCIL First row: Mike Bates, Stephanie Beck, Megan Diffin, Brandon Beck Second row: Sara Turner, Pat Yelsik, Jill Cermak, James Polash

Annette Cermak Last Row: Angie Turner President Valerie Miller, Treasurer Angela Simone, Secretary Amy Dawson, Advisor Suzanne Luneack.

Geskus Photography

SEXY Wayne McElhaney shows off his studly body while performing in the lip sync contest. The freshmen performed a song out of the movie "Grease" and were a big hit at the contest.

J. Diffin

J. Diffin

PARTY TIME Tim Bates, Kevin Fabus, and Josh Adams display their dancing talents at the Homecoming dance. The dance is always one of the highlights of all the activities of Homecoming week.

Amidst the long days of hard work that every high school student has learned to live with there is a buzz, a certain charged feeling floating through the halls and filling the student body with enthusiasm.

People talk of the next big event to pull them out of the long, drawnout days and into a little bit of excitement. The student council provides these events that make an endless school year fly by in the blink of an eye.

"I enjoyed Homecoming and the roller-skating party because we had a lot of fun activities within both of them, and there was always something new to do," remarked Brandon Beck.

Things such as relay races, hall decorating contests, and basketball tournaments provide an exhilarating way to spend a class period instead of reading another chapter of a textbook.

"Things like the events that student council sponsors don't just happen, they take lots of planning. The behind-the-scenes planning for these events is considerable," stated advisor Mrs. Suzanne Luneack.

The fun events that everyone enjoys is brought to the student body by lots of hard work and planning that the student council has put into it. The extra hours of diligently insuring that every event goes as planned isn't as easy as people think that it is.

Amy Dawson

STUDENT COUNCIL