

B. Andersen, Science
 A. Bradley, Cook
 J. Brown, Counselor
 R. Brzak, Bus Driver
 C. Burk, Special Needs

D. Evans, Cook
 B. Gavenda, Math
 M. Gavenda, Secretary
 M. Gearhart, Art
 C. Gruenberg, Supt.

B. Haruska, Secretary
 R. Koppleberger, Board

A
 staff
 with class

D. Landis, English
 C. Lange, Cook

S. Larsen, Science
 S. Luneack, English
 K. Martnez, Social Studies
 J. McLennan, Custodian
 R. Merignac, Board

M. Moore, Business
 C. Pearson, Bus Driver
 S. Peterson, Special Needs
 S. Reichard, Life Mgt.
 D. Saylor, Bus Driver

Of course, everyone knows there is a different side to all the staff outside the classroom. Some of us have witnessed this at the lip syncs.

The staff also did a skit before Christmas break that put the students in the teachers' place. Each staff member took the identity of one of the students. From nerd to show off, they all had different characters to fill. "It gives the kids a chance to see the teachers in in a different light as opposed to being in the classroom," stated Mrs. Marilyn Gearhart.

The skit wasn't a planned out dialogue; they just said things to fit their character. "All the staff had to say at least one line but we seemed to have some line stealers," said Mrs. Gearhart.

-Alissa Czeiszperger