

B. Franks

WHEN I DIP, YOU DIP, WE DIP Seniors Valerie Miller and Jason McCrimmon show off their moves during Homecoming.

Suddenly,
we come to the end of the century.

B. Franks

DON'T LOOK!! Kevin Fabus and Valerie Miller; this year's king and queen, strike a pose during the special royalty dance.

The Royalty of Y2K

AND THE ROYALTY... Senior candidates Kalep Harris, Josh Saylor, Jason McCrimmon, Kevin Fabus, Kristin Bornemann, Miranda Coon, Val Miller, and Kim Bush await the announcement of the King and Queen.

Royalty

Tension surrounded the crowd as they watched the Bears fall farther behind in the football game against Onekama. At halftime the seniors waited to hear whose names would be announced as king and queen. Then the announcer revealed that the student body had chosen Kevin Fabus and Valerie Miller. Instead of wondering who would be named king, Kevin was still focused on the game. "I couldn't believe the way that the game was going. I wanted to get back out on the field and play ball," he commented.

Sadly, the Bears ended the game with a 20-6 loss. "It was one of those disappointing games," observer David Phillips stated.

The dance was a success and called students to the annual occasion. "I loved the dance," stated Queen Valerie Miller, "I love to dance with my boy, Jason."

Along with the seniors, there were also younger groups who participated in the dance. Sarah Johnston said, "I enjoyed the dance; it gave me a chance to mess around with my friends that I otherwise don't see anywhere besides during school."

-Brandon Beck

HOMECOMING NIGHT