

D. Landis

HOW ROMANTIC Kristin Bornemann and Tim Bates are honored as the 2000 Prom Queen and King.

Prom is not just a dance, but it's a time to make memories!

D. Landis

...YOU MAKE ME SMILE Lucas Studt and his girlfriend, Lyndsay Goward, take a moment out of the enchanted evening to smile for the camera. "The best part about the evening was how irresistible Lucas looked in his tux," reflected sophomore Lyndsay Goward. "Overall, prom was extremely romantic."

The Prom

Duos

SENIORS' LAST DANCE The last magical moment is shared by seniors Val Miller, Angela Simone, Amy Dawson, Miranda Coon, Sara Whitford, Kevin Fabus, Josh Saylor, Amy Cermak, and Steve Lowell. "I was so overwhelmed, I cried," said Amy.

"Getting Prom Queen was very exciting and unexpected," commented Kristin Bornemann. "It was even more romantic having Tim Bates as King."

Prom night is a night that everybody looks forward to. It's a night where you can get all dressed up and let your wild side shine through. It's so romantic watching all of the couples dance while they gaze into each other's eyes.

This year's prom theme was "Dreams of Paris." "Our class worked really hard and put a lot of time and planning into decorating for prom," commented Kari Deming. "I thought everyone would give up after the tower fell down, but we all stuck with it."

Prom is also a time to make unforgettable high school memories. Who could ever forget the way that Kevin Fabus livened up the dance floor by requesting the polka, "Roll out the Barrel?"

"I'll never forget the way our whole class danced together to our class song," stated Amy Cermak. "It's truly special that on the last few days our class really pulled together and became the best of friends." There are no memories greater than the ones shared with friends.

-Jill Cermak