

SKETCHIN' AND JOGGIN'

Nothing but blow off classes? It's an easy A? Some people might say Art and P.E. are just that, but others take these classes seriously.

"Art is one way to express myself and my artistic abilities," stated Josh Mason. On the other hand, some people don't take them as seriously.

"I think art classes are a lot of fun, and I always try to do my best work on my projects. It's just that I'm not very artistic. Art, to me, isn't a serious career possibility, writing is," commented Kari Deming.

"The majority of the students do take the classes

J. Diffin

SEXY THANG ... Aaron Grollimund dresses up for advanced P.E. in a sexy football get-up. He borrowed clothes from James Polash. "I didn't care what I was wearing, I just wanted to get my points for the day," stated Aaron.

seriously, especially the older students. The students who do poorly in art classes do poorly in other classes," reflected art instructor, Mrs. Marilyn Gearhart.

P.E. classes are in the same situation as art classes. Some take it seriously and others don't. Mr. Bruce Anderson stated, "It is not a hard class to pass, but some people just don't want to put the little bit of effort it may take to pass the class." It also depends on the activity the instructor chooses to do for that day. Some may enjoy kick ball, while others may enjoy hockey. It all depends on the activity, whether or not people are going to take it seriously or just blow it off.

"I don't give these classes a label of being a blow off class; I give them the label of fun and interesting," stated junior Rachel Billings.

And so it seems, according to Mr. Anderson: "Some of the most important skills we may learn are self-confidence and communication.

-Alissa Czeiszperger

J. Shaw

POTLUCK PROJECTS ... Kari Deming, Josh Mason, and David Phillips all work on different projects in the Handicrafts class. Students enjoy this class because it gives them a chance to do what they are interested in doing.