

Rain, rain,
go away,
go bother some other school, because we are...

Hangin

Tough

As people were wrapped in warm blankets holding umbrellas, the Bears fought their homecoming game in the rain. Though it was a dreary night for a homecoming game, it seemed that many people thought the rain wasn't all that bad. "I thought the rain just added to the fun," remarked Andrew Mills. Instead of killing the homecoming spirit, it helped add a little fun for those who were watching the game. Ashley Kauffman added, "I think the rain made the game more exciting. It gave me more spirit." Just as the rain had no effect on the spectators, the rain also had no effect on the players. Ryan Bates commented,

"The rain just made us fight harder." The Bears won with a great victory of 26-12 over Baldwin.

The spirit was carried over to Saturday as people gathered in the cafeteria for the dance.

Students were having a blast. "I had a good time just dancing and hangin with my friends," Dustin Schueller stated. Many have said that the best part of the homecoming dance is just being with your friends. Maybe this is why homecoming is so special.

Vicki Gilbert

ZONKED OUT Taking a snooze between dances is Ron Boucher. "What, this isn't a slumber party?" Ron commented.

Schaffert Photography

Wow... Amy Walter, Heather Demoinés, and Rachel Billings look on as Tyler Cooper (Rachel's friend) gives a show.

HE'S ALL THAT Strutting his stuff on stage is Rob Bearn. Rob, who was new to this school this year, seems to be having fun.

WHAT DID YOU SAY? Jared Wallen, T.J. Good, and Jared Studt engage in an interesting conversation around a table.

I WON!?!?!?!? Jessica Passmore is stunned as she is crowned queen for homecoming 2000.