

Changing tradition with new talent show was a...

Super-Star

Success

Some people are afraid of change, but not the student council. Due to lack-luster lip syncs in the past, they decided to sponsor a talent show during Twirp Week instead of a lip sync.

"The talent show was a lot of fun seeing people showing off their hidden talents," stated council president, James Polash.

Among the talented was Jesse Diffin as Julio the multi-talented hula-hooping champion. "Although he didn't score well with the judges, I found him hilariously entertaining," commented junior Amanda Barror.

The live entertainment also included solos, stand-up comedy and skits. "I was impressed by the number of contestants; I thought that the wide variety of entries kept everyone's undivided attention," said Stacy Densmore.

"It was fun making a fool of myself in front of everyone," reflected Troy Adams. Troy participated in a jump-roping act with close companion, Aaron Grollimund, and also volunteered to show up Julio with his own hula-hooping skills.

Songbird, Amanda Pearson said, "I was nervous, but I was glad that the crowd was attentive and that I received second place."

Lyndsay Goward

J.Cermak

STOP IN THE NAME OF LOVE

Sophomores Rebecca Long, Wayne McElhaney, Katie Beck, and Vicki Turner strut their stuff during their singing and dancing performance, which won them first place.

WHATCHA GOT TO EAT? Starving stars Stephanie Beck and Brian Polash survive their Survivor skit.

CORNPONE CUTIE Student Council Co-president James Polash reflects, "Announcing the acts was one of the easiest tasks."

SINGING SONGBIRD Senior Amanda Pearson dazzles the audience with a solo of a song by her favorite singer, Mindy McCready.

STAR STRUCK "I was impressed by the contestants and the talents they performed," confesses Joe Shaw and Aaron Schulz.