Class of # 2001

Graduation is a time to look back at all the memories that you have had with your class. The class of 2001 was known for their humor and jokes. Who could forget all those times that James Polash hid under Mrs. Baker's desk to scare her. Not to mention that he didn't fail once. Or at swingout when Mr. Larsen wore an Afro wig, or what about the horseback riding story that he told and everyone fell for it?

Kari Deming said, "I will miss laughing with my class...and also at them." This class will be able to look back at all the fun and laughter that they shared together, and even more fun memories.

"I will miss the camping trips to Mr. Larsen's cabin the most," commented

James Polash. Each summer Mr. Larsen takes a bunch of guys up north to his cabin for a week. They go fishing and just hang out.

Mr. Larsen stated, "The best memories of my class are the summer camping trips with the group." This was a week they could relax and have some laughs with each other. "I will miss the ten minute bickering fests," Amy Walter said. Not only is graduation a time to look at the good memories but a time to look back at the bad and laugh at them.

BABES OF 2001 The girls of the senior class get together for an all girl picture before they part from school. "I'm going to miss all my friends," commented Rachel Billings.

DUHH... Ready for the graduation ceremony to start are James Polash, Matt Brzak, and Jesse Diffin.

I'M THE MAN Giving his final valedictorian speech to his class about staying in touch with everyone is Aaron Grollimond.

STUDLY STRUT Kevin Peters and Andrew Mills walk together. "I was just hoping I wouldn't screw up and trip," Andrew stated.
