

DOIN' IT ELVIS STYLE During SADD week, Mr. Bruce Andersen was announced as the best Elvis impersonator. He did the movements and the voice of Elvis as if he were actually

"The King". There were a series of steps that he had to pass such as dressing up, singing, and moving like Elvis. Mr. Andersen passed all three and was chosen by the applause of the crowd.

J. Diffin

A Sense of Humor = A Blast

Whoever said the staff doesn't have an inner child in them? Just like every other adult, the staff has a wacky and wild sense of humor and every now and then it rises to the surface to be expressed in an unexpected manner.

A week before prom night, OJ Andersen, a comedian and motivational speaker, was invited to talk about personal experiences that happened to him and his friend when they were drinking. Before he spoke of his personal experiences he put on a show and gave some of the staff the Elvis impersonator test. There were three stages to the test. Each teacher had to move like Elvis, dress up like Elvis, and sing a song that Elvis had once sung. The best one won.

Of course, out of all the participants, Mr. Bruce Andersen won the name, "Best Elvis Impersonator." Even though the students had a good laugh, the teachers cut loose and proved that they can have fun, but at the same time be a positive role model for the student body.

"I think students sometimes think that teachers can't be human and have fun, but we can," commented Mr. Andersen. "I also thought the program was a good positive program for our student body."

Cassandra Richmond

J. Shaw,
School Board

S. Sopocy
School Board

T. Starry,
Technology

R. Steffen,
Librarian

B. Stehlik,
Custodian

M. Stoneman,
Bus Driver

S. Strouse,
School Board

R. Studt,
School Board

J. Vanek,
Bus Driver

M. Watson,
Athletic Director

J. Whitford,
Bus Driver

D. Wood,
Librarian